F. G. DAVISON and party reached Battleford safely. They sold their logs there and went on east.

REV. D. ARNOT will preach at Poplar lake schoolhouse, on Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock.

W. H. CUSHING, of Jarrett & Cushing, Calgary, came in on Monday's train and went out on Wednesday.

S. J. DENNIS, in charge of the survey work going on in this district, was in town on Tuesday. The parties are working in the vicinity of Beaver lake.

SERGEANT-MAJOR HOOPER, of the police division stationed at Calgary, is about to take his discharge. Mr. Hooper was at one time stationed at Fort Saskatchewan.

THE new saw mill on the Sturgeon is now running, cutting rough lumber which is sold at the mill at $16 and $18 a thousand feet. The grain crusher is also running.

H. NANTON, Calgary agent of Osler, Hammond & Nanton, was in town by Monday's train.

HON. J. W. GIBSON, of the Ontario cabinet, will arrive on to-night's train, accompanied by Mrs. Gibson.

W. J. CARTER, station builder on the C. & E., came in on Monday's train to erect a building for Osler, Hammond & Nanton, near the railway station.

THE town graders pulled on to Victoria Avenue on Tuesday afternoon, having completed the Rowland street grade to the river flat. This makes a most excellent grade to the mill and brickyard.

J. C. C. BREMNER, of Clover Bar, has nineteen ewes, which gave him 41 lambs this spring. One ewe gave a single lamb, 14 gave two each and 4 gave triplets. This is a return which is seldom or ever exceeded.

THE town electric lights are being put in. They are placed as follows: Police barracks, Namayo Avenue, Alberta Hotel, H. B. Co. store, BULLETIN corner, Gallagher's butcher shop, Presbyterian church, Norris & Carey.

CALGARY Herald: A telegram from Innisfail to the Herald states that a man named Jackson, mistaking a newly arrived Englishman named Payne for a bear, shot at and killed him. The unfortunate affair occurred at Horse Shoe lake, east.

H. VIZINA, of the Horse Hill, has barley one foot seven inches high, sown on April 16th. He also has Ladoga wheat one foot five inches high, sown on March 26th, and Calcutta wheat of the same height sown on the same date. The crop has not once been injured or cut back by frost.

REFERRING to the matter of the lateness of the spring at Edmonton and in the Parry Sound district respectively, the BULLETIN is informed that on May 23rd there had not been enough growth in the Parry Sound district to enable the cattle to pasture out and there was no hay to be purchased.

BUTTER is very plentiful, the stores being unable to take all that is offered. It is still retailing at 25c, but is being refused from the farmers at 20c or even less. There is only one way out of this butter difficulty and that is the universal establishment of creameries, from which butter can be exported.

MESSRS. J. Walsh, H. S. Young, Jas. Gibbons and E. Brousseau returned from Lake St. Ann this week, where they had gone to bid on a large lot of fur just brought in from the Jasper House direction. Pierre Gray, trader on Smoky river, sold one lot of fur to Thes. Taylor, of the H. B. Co., for $2,600, who also purchased a lot from T. Vincent, for $483. Besides Pierre Gray sold 37 very fine martens to Jas. Gibbons, for $166, who resold them to Mr. Walsh for $168.50. Mr. Walsh also purchased from V. St. Paul one lot of fur for $184. The fur sold amounted to $3,390. Pierre Gray still holds about 100 dressed moose skins for sale.

THE town fire engine arrived on Monday's train. On Wednesday it was tested and found to work satisfactorily. The water is forced by air pressure, which can be produced in seven minutes. Two continuous streams of water can be thrown about 70 feet by keeping up the air pressure by means of two hand pumps. A chemical is provided with which the water to be used is charged, which renders it much more effective than pure water. It is not at all on the principle of the ordinary chemical engine, which depends for forcing power on chemical action, and must cease operations to be recharged. It is hauled and worked by hand.

THE members of the Edmonton lacrosse club are pining to rub the rust off a Calgary team in a match. They have challenged the Calgary club to play either in Calgary or Edmonton, and as yet have received no satisfactory answer. They wonder if the Calgary club is there yet or if its members have joined the procession to Everett.

For years past the Free Press has been fighting the Manitoba government on its anti-separate school policy and denouncing the principle of a uniform school system as intolerant and tyrannical to the last degree. On the approach of the general elections it became necessary for the Manitoba legislative opposition, which lives, moves and has its being in the Free Press, to state its policy on public questions. This it has done, and this is the part of the policy relating to the school question:

"The Opposition hereby declare:

"1. That they are in favor of one uniform system of public schools for the province.

"2. That they are ready and willing to loyally carry out the present school act—should it be held by the judicial committee of the Privy Council of Great Britain to be within the legislative power of the province.

"3. That in the event of such school act being held by the judicial committee of the Privy Council of Great Britain to be beyond the legislative power of the province; then they will endeavor to secure such amendments to the "British North American Act" and the "Manitoba Act" as will place educational matters wholly within the legislative power of the Province of Manitoba without appeal to Governor-General-in-Council or the Parliament of Canada."

The policy is all right, but how under the circumstances the Free Press or the opposition party expect to be credited with honesty of purpose in the affair is one of those things that no fellow can find out.

The Methodist conference, in session in Winnipeg, is greatly exercised over the sentence of death recently passed on a Piegan Indian for killing a medicine man of his tribe. It appears that the medicine man had undertaken to cure the children of the murderer and had failed; and that under the circumstances Indian law or custom justified the killing of the medicine man by the bereaved parent. The conference thinks that, in this case, the Indian law should hold good, and that the killing of the medicine man should not be considered murder. There is something to be said in favor of the extension of this view to civilized life.

The Free Press of June 11th says: F. P. Brothers, who has charge of Mann & Holt's railway construction work, arrived from the east this week. He left at midnight on a delayed Pacific express for Calgary with 150 men, 50 from this city and 100 from the east, who arrived last night. He is to push the work on the C. & E. south of the C. P. R. through to completion at once. Grading is finished to within a few miles of Fort Macleod, and about fifty miles is to be ironed. From the Fort to the boundary the line is not graded; tanks and station houses will also be erected.

The Toronto Globe has printed fac similes of vouchers showing that, in 1887, Sir Adolphe Caron drew from government contractors, subsidized railroads and others $75,000, which was spent corruptly in the general elections.

The Dominion Illustrated monthly has as a supplement a full page engraving of the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie. The June number is excellent throughout.

OIL.

For years past reports have been spread from time to time, regarding the presence of asphalt and petroleum tar in the country surrounding Edmonton, and a good deal of time and money has been expended in the hitherto vain effort to locate the actual springs. Indian stories were told of springs of black mud here and there, but none of these stories could ever be traced up to actual fact. The Indian who knew the place was dead, or the one who had heard of it was unable to find it, or the spring having been found, it was only black mud and not the wished for petroleum. Color was lent to these reports by the known facts regarding the vast petroleum deposits on the Athabasca, which might easily extend to underlie the Edmonton district; by the fact that limestone boulders saturated with petroleum tar in a hard dry state were frequently found on the river bars, and by the further facts that in the valley of a creek, about 60 miles south west of Edmonton, large boulders or broken pieces of sandstone saturated with tar were found, and a similar find was made at Pigeon lake. The weak point of these discoveries was that, although beyond question the tar was there, being only in loose moveable pieces of stone, no clue was given as to the locality of the spring from which it came. A local company was formed to bore for oil at the creek mentioned, but the drill procured was unsuited for the purpose, and soon broke, and the boring was abandoned. This was the last attempt that was made to find oil until Monday of this week. Rumors had been gathering ever since spring opened as to the existence of a most peculiar spring north of St. Albert, and on Monday last P. Daly drove out to the place, about 22 miles distant to investigate. On his return he brought with him a number of pieces of earth or mud saturated with tar so as to be quite flexible and a pan full of the tar itself in a semi-liquid state, taken out of a hole which he caused to be dug to a depth of about five feet. Apparently the tar had exuded through a crack in the ground, saturating the surface earth and being itself hardened by the process. About two feet below the surface the first pure liquid tar was found in what appeared like pockets as far as the digging was carried. The color of the tar is black with a very slight brownish tinge. It is of the consistency and has very much of the smell of ordinary coal tar. In every way it exactly resembles the tar found on the Athabasca, which has been pronounced by geologists to be the product of petroleum beds. The tar burns readily in a fire, giving off smoke and a smell exactly like petroleum. Whether or not the tar is a sure indication of a profitable petroleum field, there is no doubt of the genuineness of the find, and as little that it is not confined to that single locality.

PRESENTATION.

On Wednesday evening Miss E. Philips, who has acted as organist at the Methodist church for several years past, was presented with the following address:

"We, the members of the choir and congregation, respectfully and sincerely request you to accept this purse as a slight token of the estimation and appreciation in which you are held for your competent and invaluable services as organist. We feel that you have spared neither time nor pains and that you have been ever faithfully and zealously punctual in the performance of your many and various duties in connection therewith. Although the mental and physical strain has been severe, yet the work has been done so pleasantly and cheerfully that you have won the deepest respect and admiration of the choir and congregation. We hereby feebly endeavor to express our thanks and gratitude; and hope that we may still enjoy your assistance at our practices and services."

The address was accompanied by a purse of $57.

D. E. NOYES arrived from his trading post at White Mud lake, 60 miles east of the Jasper pass, this week, with his winter's trade of fur. He brought pack horses. Snow was not deep last winter, game was plentiful and horses wintered well; but on the 2nd of May snow of about 2½ feet occurred. Even in the Jasper valley where snow scarcely ever falls there was four inches. When this snow melted it made the swamps and streams very high. Every bridge on the Jasper horse trail was carried away and in coming down Mr. Noyes had to make eight rafts and twelve bridges. A Sautaux family of hunters, who went to the Jasper valley last fall with poor horses, left with their horses fat. Rabbits are becoming numerous once more, and Mr. Noyes kept count of the number of rabbits consumed each day for four months by four families of Indians, who were camped near his trading post. The count showed an average of 100 rabbits for each day of the four months. During the 5th month they killed and eat 100 mountain sheep and goats and five bears, besides four pure bred at the trading post. There was a good killing of moose on the Smoky river last winter.

The gas boring in Calgary is down 1,400.
